WATER CONSERVATION

Sections 412.02 and 03 list specific water conservation measures required for subdivision landscaping and common use buildings. Section 412.01A also states that subdivisions shall conform to water conservation measures and policies adopted in the Cochise County Zoning Regulations and policies of the Cochise County Comprehensive Plan and other ordinances as adopted or as amended from time to time. Based on the following Comprehensive Plan policies in Section 102.1A, the developer may be asked to provide information on projected water use and include additional water conservation policies.

Major developments (which includes all subdivisions) shall indicate the design features that will be incorporated into the development to:

- a. Minimize overall water use through water conservation measures such as drought-tolerant landscaping, low-flow fixtures, re-use, water harvesting, deed restrictions and other water conservation methods.
- b. Address accelerated run-off due to construction and impervious surfaces.
- c. Conserve and enhance recharge through methods such as the use of detention basins, protection of open space and minimizing disturbance of soils and other methods.

TENTATIVE PLAT PROCESS

The initial review from acceptance of a complete application to the first Subdivision Committee meeting with the applicant takes approximately 6 weeks depending on the complexity of the project.
